It was very humid and sticky today and rather still at times and it didn't fish quite as well as expected. The ide were not coming right up and didn't really get swirling like they often do. I found the carp rather active but the ide being spooked by them. The winner Lee, caught down the edge from the off mainly barbel and carp where as most people didn't get edge action until toward the end of the match. Allan caught mainly ide and carp up in the water then barbel eventually turned up in the last hour down his left hand edge.

Overall it fished hard for most but we were well looked after by the owners as always and most people seemed to enjoy the hard fighting barbel and getting some ide which were a new species for some anglers.
